I'm using these cards with my 3 1/2 year old who is starting to learn some sign language, beyond the basics of "more," "please," and "thank you" that he learned as a baby. There are 28 cards, with the English and Spanish word on the front with a picture describing the word, and on the back it shows and tells you how to sign it. This being my first experience learning sign language, I'm able to follow the illustrations fairly easily and sign it out. Then my son repeats the sign after me. The Spanish is also nice to have as I can teach him both the sign and the Spanish word as we go through them. There are five of these sets in all. This set focuses on family members, clothing, and bathroom issues. The cards included in this set are: Aunt, Boy, Brother, Change, Clean, Coat, Cousin (f), Cousin (m), Diaper, Dirty, Dress, Dry, Friend, Girl, Good, Grandma, Grandpa, Hat, I Love You, Pants, Share, Shirt, Shoes, Sister, Socks, Toilet, Uncle, Wet. I would definitely recommend these for kids or any beginner who wants to expand their signing vocabulary.

I am a mom who home schools her autistic son. We have the entire series of these flash cards and I love them. They are so easy to follow and learn with. I would highly recommend to any parent/student who is starting to learn ASL.

these cards are great i ordered all 5 packages. some of the words are advanced and not needed yet for my son (19months) but in time they will all be used, you kind of have to purchase them all to get all the "basic" toddler words but they are very much worth it. He loves the flash card style and has been learning signs very fast with theirs, next spanish :)

wow!! this are very easy to use, my 20mo boy loves them, they are well made, a great all around product, I was more amazed on how my boy payed attention to me as I was showing him the cards and the hand gestures, I think that my boy will learn super quick cause he really pays attention and he likes them!! I am glad cause I don't want him to watch cartoons all the time!! happy parent!! Parents go for it, easy to use and learn!!
